Dear Mr. Casey:

It may not seem that long ago to you, but believe it or not, JASON is entering its Twenty-Fifth year. In order to commemorate our unique organization, we are planning a special two-day symposium on Thursday and Friday, November 29-30, 1984. All present and former JASONS as well as people like yourself who have contributed in an important manner to JASON are being invited to participate.

The meeting on Thursday will be held at the National Academy of Sciences. This meeting will be unclassified. Friday's meeting, November 30, will be classified and will be at the Department of State.

A banquet is being planned for you and your guest at the Academy for the evening of the 29th, as well as special festivities at the luncheons.

So mark your calendars now -- come and celebrate our first and next Twenty-Five years!

Sincerely,

William A. Nierenberg
